US COMBOS

Make the most of your trip across the pond with a dual or multi destination getaway...

Boston is the capital of Massachusetts

MASSACHUSETTS

There's no better place for a road trip than America, but if you have kids in tow you might want to start with a smaller area than the epic journey along Route 66. Massachusetts is the perfect place for a family to explore, with museums, national parks and miles of unspoilt coastline to visit.

THE BERKSHIRES

Clapperboard houses and white picket fences abound in this picturesque forested corner of MA. For a bit of culture, head to the recently restored house of author Edith Wharton or the Norman Rockwell Museum, which is one for art lovers. Kids will enjoy a visit to Hancock Shaker Village, an old Shaker settlement where they still keep farm animals.

We based ourselves in the beautiful village of Lenox, staying at the Birchwood Inn (Birchwood-inn.com), where they serve two-course breakfasts and amazing teas. It's also well positioned for visiting Tanglewood, the summer home of the Boston Symphony Orchestra. From £158 a night.

NANTUCKET

This beautiful island is one of Kourtney Kardashian's favourite holiday destinations. The locals pride themselves on studiously ignoring all the famous faces that turn up on their shores, which is one reason the A-list loves it.

We got the ferry to the island from Hyannis Port in Cape Cod, having left our Hertz hire car in a secure lot there (Steamshipauthority.com). The Cottages in the Boat Basin, right in the centre of the historic town, are an ideal base from which to explore the local sights, such as the Nantucket Whaling Museum, and there's a complimentary bus service to take you to most of the fantastic beaches. Late season rates start at £150 per night (Thecottagesnantucket.com).

For a dinner treat, we'd recommend Brant Point Grill at the White Elephant Hotel, which specialises in steaks and seafood.

BOSTON

The home town of Matt Damon and Ben Affleck offers great shopping, fab seafood restaurants and a fascinating historical walking trail in which the British are definitely the bad guys! The city has a very villagey feel and with a Go Boston card (Smartdestinations.com) or a CityPass (Citypass.com) it's easy to take in several sights in one day. Children will love the New England Aquarium, especially the shark and ray touch tank, and a tour round the Red Sox stadium, Fenway Park. There's also the Museum Of Fine Arts and the gorgeous streets of Beacon Hill to explore.

The Colonnade Hotel in the fashionable Back Bay district offers the city's only rooftop pool (Colonnadehotel.com). The views from here are stunning and you can visit the nearby Skywalk Observatory to get even higher up.

Nantucket has golden beaches

You'll also find excellent eateries like the Summer Shack on your doorstep.

NEED TO KNOW: For more info on Massachusetts, see Massholiday.co.uk. See BA.com for flights, from £365 return. See Hertz.com for car rental. Ten days car hire from Boston Logan International Airport costs from £249. It's a good idea to sign up to Hertz's Gold Plus Rewards service before you book, as you can then add an additional driver at no extra cost at most locations, have access to member discounts and there's no queuing.

TRAVEL

FLORIDA

It's easy to combine Miami and Fort Lauderdale in a single trip as they're only a 35-minute drive apart. Keep an eye out for A-listers in both – Eva Longoria and Dakota Johnson were spotted in Miami this year, while Jennifer Lopez and Katie Holmes have visited Fort Lauderdale.

MIAMI SOUTH BEACH

Sunday brunch at Nikki Beach is not to be missed. Not only are there unlimited tasty treats for £38, but once you've indulged in a couple of frosés (that's frozen rosé in case you didn't know!), you'll be ready to hit the dance floor with the other revellers.

For a unique dining experience, head to Barton G, where every dish is a spectacle. It's an Instagrammer's dream as plates arrive at your table adorned with giant dollar bills, elephant heads and even a motorbike! (Tip: the lobster pop tarts are delish!)

Of course you'll want a bit of time to hit the beach and marvel at the famous Art Deco architecture too. And Villa Azur is a great spot for a romantic dinner, with gourmet cuisine in chic surroundings. Our favourite place to party was Bodega – head past the diner to discover the hidden club out back.

The Gale hotel in Miami is perfectly located in the heart of South Beach, just a short stroll from the sea and the Lincoln Road shopping mall. There's a cute rooftop pool and a fab free shuttle service to ferry you to the bars and name. We also loved our water taxi river cruise, which takes you past the mansions and yachts of the rich and famous.

For a gastronomic treat, head to Wild Sea Oyster Bar & Grille and try the delicious seafood. Yolo was our favourite spot for an al fresco cocktail after dinner.

We stayed at The Diplomat, which has a sea-facing pool deck, a luxury spa and three restaurants, our favourite being the Japanese, Monkita. Rooms from £150, see Diplomatresort.com.

NEED TO KNOW: British Airways (BA.com) offers flights to Miami from £458 return. For more info, see Visitflorida.com, Bartong.com, Villaszu miami.com, Whiskeycreekhideout.com and Wildsealolas.com.

CALIFORNIA

After a buzzing city break, there's nothing better than winding down for a few days surrounded by stunning scenery. Which is why a trip that takes in the sights of San Francisco followed by the dramatic landscape of Yosemite National Park is perfect. You might spot a star en route – Emma Stone was seen dining in dim sum in SF this year, while Ashton Kutcher and Mila Kunis honeymooned in Yosemite.

SAN FRANCISCO

Tick off a few of the must-sees, such as the Golden Gate Bridge, on a Big Bus Hop-on Hop-off Sightseeing Tour. Be sure to jump out at hippy hangout Haight-Ashbury too, to peruse its amazing vintage boutiques. Fans of Mexican food will love the hip Mission District. Grab a takeout taco and head to Dolores Park for fab views of downtown SF. For something more fancy, head to Foreign Cinema, where you can watch a movie while you dine under the stars.

Cova Hotel in downtown San Francisco is close to the shopping hub of Union Square. We loved the chic roof terrace and the make-your-own waffles at breakfast. Rooms start at £130, see Covahotel.com.

YOSEMITE

A four-hour drive takes you to one of America's best-loved national parks, Yosemite, where you'll find meadows, lakes, waterfalls, giant sequoia trees and towering rock formations, including the mighty El Capitan. There are 12,000 square miles of breathtaking wilderness to explore, with a complimentary shuttle bus that stops off at all the main vistas.

We stayed at Rush Creek Lodge, set in 20 woodland acres. The rooms all have a wooden deck – most offering sunset views – and the pool and hot tubs are perfect for unwinding after a day of hiking in the park. From £180 per night, see Rushcreeklodge.com.

NEED TO KNOW: Norwegian offers flights from Gatwick to Oakland, from £360 return, see Norwegian.com. For more info, see Bigbustours.com/en/san-francisco, Foreigncinema.com, SFtravel.com, Yosemite.com.
